Reflections on Doctors: Nurses' Stories about Physicians and Surgeons (Kaplan Voices) Terry Ratner
Nurses share what it's like to work with doctors—when it's like a smooth-running machine, when communication breaks down, and how it directly affects the patient. Hear from people new to the field as well as those who have been in nursing for decades about power differences, gender dynamics, and the challenge of public perceptions.

Edited and introduced by a registered nurse, Reflections on Doctors is a resource for nurses and anyone who wants to better understand the healthcare professionals who care for them.
